RED DEPORTE
hope in motion

LETTER FROM THE CEO

It is a pleasure to address the friends of Red Deporte and of sport for Social Change, and celebrate with all of you the 20th anniversary of our organization. We leave behind a year that has marked the world, reminding us all of the importance of shared responsibility; realizing that we are all in the same boat, and that the entire crew must be taken care of, without exception. This is precisely the message with which the health programs have been working in the communities since our inception. And there is nothing better for young people to develop all their leadership and responsibility than getting the message across on a pitch.

To celebrate our 20th anniversary, we wanted to launch a long-held dream: the construction of a community sports center in the City of Hope, Zambia. The first stone has already been placed with the first collaborations. It is our most fervent desire to tell you about this center in the next report published by Red Deporte.

2020 has irremediably forced us to change for a while the way we relate to the participants of our programs. The break in activities has allowed us to focus on developing all our research work, without detaching ourselves from our objectives or from virtual contact with the participants of our programs and the organizations with which we collaborate.

Likewise, we are very proud that our work has been recognized through various awards in this period. Despite the special circumstances that our world is going through, we will work tirelessly to fulfill our mission, with the confidence of returning to the long-awaited complete normality, for the publication of our next report.

Sincerely,

Carlos de Cárcer

CEO of Red Deporte

RED DEPORTE CELEBRATES 20 YEARS

It was in 1999 when Red Deporte began its activity as one of the pioneering NGOs at the international level in the field of sport for development. At that time, joining the words NGO and sport was something that many questioned, outside the realm of priorities in youth development.

We, and the very small number of organizations that at that time made up the international community of sport for development, also did not know how to clearly define the distant vision of a better world and a more empowered youth and childhood thanks to the use of sport.

Nowadays, it is a field that, despite still having a lot of ground to explore, has made enormous progress in terms of methodologies, scope and breadth of groups and contexts in which to work: health, peacebuilding, violence prevention and consumption, disability, employability, gender equality and a long etcetera of topics and areas. We are very proud to have helped in these 20 years to project life and pave the way for the most vulnerable children and youth community, as well as having contributed our bit of innovation and leadership in this sector. We have had the privilege of making thousands of friends among participants of our programs, collaborating organizations, partners and sponsors, an extremely enriching experience, to which sport adds closeness and friendship.

Throughout 20 years we have gone through sweet moments and other very challenging ones, which we have been able to overcome with determination, work, faith and trust. Today, we are also sure that we will all emerge stronger from the crisis caused by COVID. With these lines we want to send our most sincere thanks to the volunteers, collaborators, sponsors and of course, to those that are of the most importance and give meaning to this organization: the thousands of young people for whom we work.

Affectionately,

Cristina Díaz

President of Red Deporte

INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION

CAMEROON

has a long tradition and passion for football. This is, by far, the most popular sport, and is considered an important element of cohesion in a country characterized by cultural, religious and linguistic diversity. The deep roots of sport, and more specifically football, make this sport a tool with great potential for working on key issues for the development of childhood and youth.

Since 2011, the Red Deporte program in the Eastern Region of Cameroon and in Yaoundé has served the most vulnerable population of Cameroon and Central African origin. Eastern Cameroon is the region of the country that suffers the most pressure in this regard. Red Deporte continues to give priority to promoting health among the most vulnerable population. In addition, during 2019 and 2020 we wanted to pay special attention to health and environmental care, both closely linked.

In these last two years, our program has dedicated its efforts to educating on health issues and avoiding the direct causes of climate change, with community schools being one of the key work spaces and, of course, sports as a point of connection with childhood and youth. The project is directly related to previous health interventions and looks for changes in environmental conditions in three areas: homes, schools and the community.

OBJETIVES

Promote environmental and community health among the vulnerable child and youth population, on issues such as HIV-AIDS, malaria and promotion of basic hygiene.

Basic health care in collaboration with public and private clinics and health centers.

RESULTS

- 2,600 girls, boys and young people between the ages of 5 and 24 benefit from educational activities for health.
- More than 900 clinical-health services provided.
- 44 monitors trained in the use of sports and educational activities to promote environmental health and fight against climate change.
- Prepared and spread the manual Football for Health and the Environment.
- Improved environmental conditions in community schools in Cameroon.

MAIN ACTIVITIES

CONVENTIONAL PROJECTS

Educational talks, mainly in community schools located in Bertoua, Bindia and Yaoundé.

FOOTBALL FOR ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH

The sports space is transformed into a context to work on environmental health and the fight against climate change. Activities take place at school, during training or at sports festivals.

HEALTH ATTENTION

The population is exposed to a high risk of diseases such as malaria, diarrhea (typhoid, amebiasis, yeast), hepatitis, skin infections or HIV-AIDS. The health work of Red Deporte throughout this period has taken place together with the public clinic Notre Maison de Santé de Mandjou.

Most of the patients are pregnant women and children. HIV is still a disease with high mortality due to the cultural reluctance of the population to undergo HIV tests and follow treatment, despite the fact that the Cameroonian government carries out the tests, provides treatment and, in addition, carries out therapeutic follow-up of patients for free.

At the Mandjou Health Center, in which Red Deporte collaborates, the work of Ignacio Sanz, an internist, has consisted of consulting on the aforementioned pathologies and carrying out specific training in optimization of clinical tests. This center has served the most vulnerable refugee and native population in the following areas:

VOLUNTARY HIV TESTING

The intervention is carried out in two phases. First, we sensitize the most exposed youth population, through educational dynamics or in a sports environment. Subsequently, access to the HIV test is offered, voluntarily and free of charge, carried out by specialized health personnel.

FAMILY MEDICINE

The group of young mothers stands out, who in numerous cases combine the consultation of the child with their own.

MALARY

Access to malaria testing and treatment. In cases of special vulnerability, we provide impregnated mosquito nets.

COVID-19

Educational activities have been introduced to prevent the transmission and contagion of COVID-19; educational dynamics whose objective is to educate the youth population on topics such as basic hygiene, social distance and the use of a mask to prevent this disease.

ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH AND CLIMATE CHANGE

The activities are carried out mainly in the environment of educational centers and community schools. The environmental program is called Green Schools of Cameroon. A program of football activities for health and environmental education has been promoted in schools, essentially primary schools in Mandjou and Bertoua. Special attention has been paid to those related to environmental care and topics such as health, prevention of infectious diseases, reforestation, recycling, waste treatment or climate change are addressed.

HEALTH AND CLEANNES OF THE ENVIRONMENT

Through educational dynamics and games, school students receive the necessary information about topics such as recycling or waste treatment. The information is received through participatory talks and is reinforced through sports-based games. Finally, the school community participates in an "action day" to clean and remove waste from the school and its surroundings.

EDUCATIVE FILM SOCIETY

The projection of films is carried out, while a space for discussion is opened with children and young people from educational centers and community schools.

THEMATIC MURALS

In educational centers and community schools we carry out with the students an activity based on designing and finally painting a large mural (normally on a classroom wall). In this case, the theme chosen to paint was related to health environment and climate change.

REFORESTATION AND FIGHT AGAINST DESERTIFICATION

This activity is also preceded by talks whose objective is to educate school children and youth on the importance of biodiversity and the conservation of natural resources, as well as the fight against desertification. Subsequently, the students of the center together with our teams of educators carry out a tree planting in the schools where we work. It is an activity that children especially like because of the symbolic value of planting and caring for trees in the educational center.

CAPACITATION

IT IS CARRIED OUT AT TWO LEVELS IN THE HEALTH CENTER

To train health personnel in preventive health and alertness in the presence of common pathological signs. It is carried out especially in family medicine clinics.

IN THE CLASSROOM AND SPORTS ENVIRONMENT

With the training of 44 supervisors and coaches, in Football for Environmental Health in Cameroon, as part of the Red Deporte intervention program in the community and school environment.

ZAMBIA

INTRODUCTION

Red Deporte has carried out a health program in the town of Mansa, located in the north of Zambia, and in Lusaka, in collaboration with the Salesians and local clinics, as well as with the Mother of Mercy clinic located in the capital of Zambia.

OBJETIVE

Promote health among the vulnerable population of Zambia, especially focused on HIV-AIDS, malaria and basic health and hygiene, family medicine and physiotherapy care.

RESULTS

- 1,200 boys, girls and young people between the ages of 5 and 24 benefit from educational activities.
- More than 3,000 clinical services provided.
- Access to sport for development, especially with games, soccer and Tag Rugby

HEALTH CARE

A team of five health professionals has traveled, three of whom participated thanks to the collaboration agreement signed with the Galician Health Service of the Xunta de Galicia. The clinical work has taken place at the first level Senama Hospital and with the Casa de la Compasión clinic, sharing knowledge and ways of working with the local medical staff, in order to make decisions together and find the best option combining both ways of work.

Red Deporte has promoted the health program, extending it to the health field, through collaboration with the Mother of Mercy clinic located in Lusaka, the capital of Zambia. It is specialized in care for HIV-AIDS, tuberculosis and more prevalent and common conditions, such as those of a gastrointestinal type.

SUPPORT TO THE DISPENSARY AND LABORATORY

Material has been donated for use by the clinic and a new inventory and ordering of all the consumable and pharmacology material available to the clinic has been carried out. This assistance has been highly appreciated.

ULTRASOUND SERVICE

The ultrasound consultation has been consolidated in the clinic, and with it, making this type of service accessible to the most vulnerable population of Chilanga and Lusaka. It represents an extraordinary qualitative leap as a diagnostic tool and also as an aid in surgical procedures. In primary and emergency care it has supplemented and even supplanted certain physical examination skills (stethoscope and abdominal palpation, very common in Zambia) by directly visualizing organs and somatic structures.

PHYSIOTHERAPEUTIC CARE

Physiotherapy care has been carried out at the Home of Compassion Clinic assisting the Mansa villages. Cervical pain, back pain and low back pain, caused by efforts in field work or derived from some food poisoning or contaminated water, with secondary effects of back pain, have been treated. Sprains and strains due to falls and neurological patients due to transmission of STDs derived from alcoholism or drug addiction were treated. Finally, various talks on injury prevention were held among the population and young athletes.

The work, carried out in collaboration with our local partners and educators, is being an excellent start to promote health by Red Deporte in this region of Zambia.

HEALTH EXTENSION PROGRAM NEEDS

Red Deporte has set as a priority for 2021 the acquisition of a vehicle to coordinate and facilitate the interventions of the health service of the health program in Zambia. This vehicle should serve remote villages, facilitating the health extension service to the most isolated communities.

Thanks to the purchase of an off-road vehicle, it will be possible to serve isolated communities, without access to doctors or nearby health centers, as well as emergencies, evacuations and monitoring of essential services such as:

THE MAIN TOPICS TREATED HAVE BEEN:

- Supply of medicines (especially HIV-AIDS treatment).
- Maternal and child health.
- Children's emergencies (under 12 years old) and evacuations to hospitals.
- Vaccination campaigns.
- Diagnostic tests and screening, including ultrasound tests.

EDUCATION FOR HEALTH

The clinical intervention has been complemented with the development of community activities on preventive health in the Salesian youth center of Mansa. An educational intervention has been carried out through numerous workshops, with children from the youth center and with adolescents from the neighbourhood. The main topics discussed have been:

THE MAIN TOPICS DISCUSSED HAVE BEEN:

- Healthy eating and exercise
- Hygiene and basic health
- Sexuality and HIV
- Malaria
- Prevention of drug and alcohol use

Sports activities were integrated into the workshops, and after the talks, adapted games and sports took place, such as athletics, relay races, shooting ball or games related to football.

FIGHT AGAINST COVID

At the end of 2019, no one could have foreseen that an epidemic that attacked a town in China could lead to a global pandemic. The most effective prescription is to stay home and follow basic hygiene and prevention guidelines such as hand and face washing, wearing a mask and minimizing social contact.

Red Deporte, with the experience accumulated in health programs, we have launched a program in Spain supported by the UEFA Foundation for Children and another in Cameroon, to educate young people to avoid contagion and transmission of the virus. Our wish would be for this educational curriculum to be temporary, but the truth is that education in the prevention of pandemics is an issue that is here to stay, and we will work to have a more educated and responsible youth and community, especially among young people. As the progress of this global pandemic is certainly unpredictable, Red Deporte, in its commitment to promoting health, will put the means at its disposal so that COVID has the least possible impact on the health of those for whom we work.

Due to the pandemic, it is clear that we have had to postpone our activity for a while, but we believe that we must begin to resume our work with all the necessary precautions, especially when it comes to bringing together large groups of people. We hope to return to full normality from September 2021, until which date we will continue to work tirelessly to improve all possible aspects of our programs, to return stronger than ever to the reestablishment of the long-awaited normality.

ACTIVITIES IN SPAIN

EMPLOYABILITY PROGRAMS

Today's job market is awakening a world of opportunities and challenges. The worker has to be someone with a great capacity to learn and adapt to the changes that have already come, in part, thanks to technology. Non-cognitive interpersonal skills are fundamental skills for this new era in the world of work, essential tools for life and work, decisive in the training of people who wish to progress professionally. Not paying attention to it is a serious mistake because they are transcendental skills for their development.

More than 70% of a person's success at work depends on interpersonal skills, and only the rest depends on hard skills (OECD study data). For this reason, from Red Deporte we support the training of these young people, complementing the technical knowledge of the courses received, with workshops and dynamics that allow them to grow as people, all of this, developing in a football environment. For this reason, meeting the needs of young people, beyond strictly training knowledge, is definitely a fundamental step on the road to employability.

THE PROGRAMME: EMPOWERING YOUNG PEOPLE THROUGH FOOTBALL

The Youth Empowerment through Football program takes advantage of the potential of this sport to increase the ability to obtain a job and stay in it, by youth groups in vulnerable situations.

The program is carried out in collaboration with training entities such as La Rueda, located in the Villaverde district, which trains boys and girls in areas such as catering, logistics, commercial services or various services, or SERCADE, a reference in the inclusion of sub-Saharan population residing in Madrid or the Spanish Red Cross.

Our program has, among its main tools, the implementation of sessions whose purpose is to develop the interpersonal skills of groups with diverse sociocultural origins. Football is the most followed and practiced sport by youth; capable of creating an optimal context to work on the development of social skills that allow a person to function successfully in society, interact efficiently, live independently and ultimately find and keep a job. The project focuses on prevention against risk factors, such as alcohol or drug use, for example.

The objective of Red Deporte is to level the playing field for access to employment, for a population that urgently needs it and that, due to cultural, linguistic or social factors, have this task very complicated in many cases.

The majority arrive in Spain in disadvantaged conditions, with many obstacles to their life project, the main objective being to find a gap in sectors such as hospitality, construction, logistics or services. However, there are also numerous supports, institutional and from social networks and fraternity, which also occur in the sports field, to which Red Deporte contributes.

INTERCULTURAL INTEGRATION PROGRAMS

The work of Red Deporte has consisted in offering a healthy leisure offer and, with it, supporting intercultural integration. Different cycles of training workshops have been carried out in the classrooms, complemented with activities based on football.

Other relevant alliances to work on interculturality have been carried out with the Red Cross of Madrid, through various activities to promote sports. Also, the Torrelodones Rugby Club has dedicated itself to hosting Red Deporte in its annual party and, to this end, has invited the young people of Red Deporte to participate in playful dynamics with the oval ball and to collaborate in a Tag Rugby meeting, a modality that considerably reduces contact, is easy to learn and very fun.

HÉCTOR COLMENARES
Promoter of the initiative

"Rugby is unique because it integrates everyone who wants to play it on the field, regardless of age, gender or playing in mixed teams. It is a sport that is based on very important values such as respect, honesty, passion, solidarity or discipline, which are instilled from the moment you start playing".

OBJETIVE

Red Deporte continues to empower the population of sub-Saharan origin residing in Madrid, with the aim of reducing their dependency and achieving increased autonomy, especially from the economic and labor spheres. Over the last year, Red Deporte has had the privilege of collaborating with the Spanish Red Cross, Salud Entre Culturas, or the SERCADE Program Afrique, all of which favor a dignified reception.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

From Red Deporte we appreciate having been able to be part of this initiative, which has also had the support of IBM. The Torrelodones Rugby Club has also shown its interest in taking further steps forward in collaboration with Red Deporte from the 2021-2022 season.

DEVELOPMENT OF FOOTBALL 3

OBJETIVE

Red Deporte has the mission of expanding the practice of an inclusive football modality in Spain. This practice divides the football game into three periods, in which the youngsters discuss the rules, dispute the match applying said agreed rules, and finally, in a third period, they score each other based on compliance with the established rules, fairplay, and the result of the match, naturally.

In addition to participating in a European monitor training program in this specialty, Red Deporte has launched numerous workshops in Spain.

Sports entities such as the Vicente del Bosque Campus have taken part with special interest in the football activities and championships carried out in the last two years. This modality continues to enjoy enormous potential as a tool for dialogue, peace, communication and development between young people of both sexes. The composition of mixed teams, on the other hand, is essential to adhere to the rules of this football modality.

FIGHT AGAINST RACISM - FARE

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Our most sincere gratitude to this prestigious professional football club from Madrid, for taking part in two actions in 2019 and 2020. Especially this last year, dominated by the pandemic, it has been especially commendable due to the numerous

OBJETIVE

The professional women's team Madrid C.F. has taken up the torch in the fight against racism and all forms of discrimination in football. The player Gema Prieto has led the day of action in the fight against racism in football – a campaign promoted by FARE, to which Red Deporte joins – and spread the message of fighting for football without racism, also in women's football.

HEALTH PROGRAM

OBJETIVE

Red Deporte, in collaboration with entities such as Salud Entre Culturas and the Spanish Red Cross, has developed a program of activities and meetings with the aim of empowering the population in terms of health. Health promotion activities in Madrid are aimed at a varied group of ages, origins, nationalities and themes, always adapted to the age of the participants.

THE MAIN TOPICS ADDRESSED HAVE BEEN:

One of the main topics is protection against infectious diseases, and the importance of working on the concept of "protection" under a community approach. These days, we are undoubtedly seeing how COVID-19 has highlighted the importance of being aware that health protection resides in the community rather than in the individual.

Some of these diseases are HIV-AIDS, Chagas and basic health and hygiene. Likewise, educational activities have been carried out with the child population on health habits and basic hygiene. The main target group for these workshops are the refugee population and asylum seekers from countries such as Venezuela, Pakistan, Syria, Guinea Conakry, Senegal, Cameroon, Colombia and Algeria, among many others.

restrictions that exist at the time of carrying out the activities. campaign actions.

FOOTBALL SAVES LIVES

Red Deporte takes advantage of 9 years of experience in health programs (HIV-AIDS, malaria and basic hygiene) to stop the transmission of COVID-19. The program uses the popularity of football as a platform to prevent the COVID-19 pandemic, focusing on Spain, one of the most affected countries worldwide. The target group is mainly the migrant population and vulnerable minorities, exposed to the same risks as other citizens.

OBJETIVE

The general objective of the project is to contribute curbing the COVID pandemic in Spain and in Europe. To do this, a COVID prevention program will be carried out among children and teenagers, through activities based on football, consolidating a network of supervisors and coaches that expands and prolongs the effects of the project.

ACTIVITIES IN SPAIN

SOCIAL INTERVENTION IN CAÑADA REAL

OBJETIVE

Red Deporte has provided sector six of Cañada Real with the necessary sports facilities to regularly carry out football programs. On the one hand, a top-quality football field was built in one of the most degraded urban areas in Spain. The new and fully functional field is without a doubt 'the sports jewel of Cañada'. Since its inauguration, work has been carried out at full capacity to promote football as a tool for social change within the Moroccan and Romany communities.

Currently the space is used by various organizations that work in Cañada. Subsequently, and in order to satisfy the demand for facilities, Red Deporte provided a community soccer field, along with the artificial grass field. To prepare the ground, debris, rubble and stones accumulated for years on its surface and surroundings were removed. Nets and goals were repaired and the field lines were drawn. The most complex part was the construction of the stands, made up of tires painted in bright colors. The COVID-19 pandemic and other adverse events in Cañada Real have forced us to slow down activity in this neighborhood of Madrid and cancel various scheduled meetings and tournaments that included the participation of these young people. However, it is planned to be renewed during 2021.

In addition to providing the space for quality sports practice in Cañada, and material for the practice of football, Red Deporte has organized various sports and socio-cultural activities for the Moroccan population of Cañada, including the presence at the Champions Festival held in Madrid in 2019.

EUROPEAN PROJECTS

UEFA CHAMPIONS LEAGUE FESTIVAL 2019

On the occasion of the 2019 UEFA Champions League Final Festival held in Madrid, Red Deporte participated in the dynamization of the attending public, through different spaces.

In our permanent position, located in Puerta del Sol, we were able to show our work to the thousands of attendees at the biggest festival of European club football. In the post office we had our permanent stand, offering different games to the attendees and giving them gift material and information about the work of Red Deporte.

In addition, the young people of the Red Deporte educational program in Spain took part in the activities of the field installed in the Plaza Mayor, being unforgettable and sunny days.

Finally, Red Deporte was offered the space of the pitch in the Plaza Mayor to organize our sporting activities together with the football community represented in Madrid. Our boys from the Cañada Real program had the opportunity to play alongside the fans of the recently crowned Liverpool FC, as the new European champion, and the very deserving finalist Tottenham. The atmosphere was fantastic at all times, invigorated by the staff of UEFA and Red Deporte.

EDUCATIONAL AND AWARENESS ACTIVITIES IN SOCIAL CENTERS

Red Deporte works in various educational centers in the Community of Madrid and Spain, educational activities to promote among the youngest values such as education in gender equality or interculturality. Various participatory workshops are carried out both in the classroom (talks, debates, exhibitions) and in training sessions on the sports field, through dynamics and games. In the last two years, tournaments, educational activities and support for a social cause, collection of sports equipment, or the drawing contest to participate in the design of the ball for the final of the 2020 European Super Cup have also been carried out. It is important that these dynamics take place in a space for reflection and a healthy playful environment, to stimulate the active participation of all students and school teachers.

SPORT INCLUSIVE

The objective of the Sportinclusive program is to provide sports professionals, sports coaches and supervisors with innovative methods, tools and support materials to promote the social inclusion of immigrants and refugees through sport.

To this end, we, the organizations with expert knowledge in the field of social inclusion, have developed an e-learning platform that allows sports professionals to design and implement sports activities for social promotion for the inclusion of immigrants and refugees.

This platform has been tested by the various project partners and translated into five languages. Events have been held at the national level for its dissemination, and numerous learning tools and tutorials have been developed, available on the project platform.

More information in this link: <https://www.en.sportinclusive.eu/>

SCORING FOR THE FUTURE

This program focuses on promoting employability among the most vulnerable European youth population, through games based on football. The project has the presence of seven European partners, and two events carried out during this 2019-2020 period stand out.

2019 FESTIVAL

Red Deporte has participated in the 2019 Lyon Festival, developed in parallel to the Women's Soccer World Cup in France. The Festival has been attended by football organizations for social change from Europe and other countries in Africa and Latin America.

A football3 tournament has been developed between the participating delegations and workshops, presentations and institutional events with the presence of important sports personalities at European level. Employability and gender equality through football have had a special role in terms of the topics addressed, giving visibility to our project. The festival has been held at the facilities of the French entity Sport dans la Ville.

SAND GAMES

The "Sand Games" project aims to build a replicable sports event for sports clubs, using sand games, in order to promote the inclusion, empowerment and employability of young refugees (8-24 years old) in Europe and the world.

Four organizations from Greece, Italy, Spain and Romania have worked together to develop the "Sand Games", a prototype sports event, to implement the first Pilot sports event and disseminate the results, in order to achieve impact at the local, regional, national and European.

The impact of the project focuses on raising awareness of how sport can contribute to social inclusion and economic development; increase local interaction with refugee camps and sites to reduce xenophobia; supply sports inclusion tools for European and international organisations; boost greater engagement of refugees with the local labor market, and increase the visibility of EU actions and the role of the Erasmus+ program in promoting sport and social inclusion.

MULTIPLIER WORKSHOP AND PRESENTATION OF THE HANDBOOK

In January 2020, the project was closed in Cologne (Germany) with the celebration of a conference to disseminate the results among potential users, of products such as the "Scoring for the Future" Manual itself, attended by around one hundred instructors and trainers from different countries, such as Spain, the United Kingdom or Germany.

Workshops were held on the implementation of activities based on football for employability, and the presentation of the manual developed over two years by the different participating entities. The event's public has shown great interest in incorporating our methodology into their social programs.

EASYBASKET

The Easybasket project aims to develop a new basketball teaching model, completely experimental, aimed mainly at children. The necessary training is provided to coaches, so that they can later spread this modality throughout Europe. Easybasket's philosophy is based on facilitating and simplifying the game of basketball, making it more accessible and easy for children.

The project has developed an e-learning platform and a manual with all the Easybasket rules and methodological guidelines to put it into practice in European territory. The guide has been translated into five European languages and will be used by all trainers in the future, and all multimedia material will be available on the website.

In Spain, the learning sessions were held at the facilities of the European University of Madrid, magnificently conducted by Professor Rafael Navarro. We greatly appreciate the team made up of Rafa Navarro, Judit Solanas and Jaime Casanova for their involvement in this project.

Easybasket is based on the concept of "Sport for All" prioritizing a sport model oriented towards S of practicing, making friends and training as people. Easybasket is undoubtedly an ally of this way of understanding the sport.

ENHANCING MENTORING SKILLS OF SPORT COACHES - EMSCO

The purpose of the project is to promote the figure of sports coaches and operators, as educators of children and young people. The project explores good coaching practices, in terms of knowledge, skills and competencies related to sports teaching. Special emphasis is placed on the development of soft skills, such as listening, empathy and communication. This practice is also oriented towards teamwork in a sports context.

The project develops activities such as research into training practices for coaches in each partner country; the comparison between coach training methods and the creation of the manual on Improving tutoring skills in sports coaches.

BIKE ENCOUNTERS

This project that goes beyond the simple fact of riding a bicycle, was born to offer the opportunity to carry out intercultural and intergenerational exchanges, enriching the European territory with its stories and traditions. This initiative also supports the development of sports tourism in Italy, Poland, and Spain, and by extension, the rest of the European territory, once the results of the project have been disseminated.

The project includes research on the use of amateur cycling for social purposes, the exchange of good practices and the design of a cycling tourist guide aimed at raising awareness of social inclusion through cycling routes. Finally, it includes the creation of an application and a permanent network on cycling tourism for social purposes.

FOOTBALL IN SCHOOL FOR YOUNG STUDENTS

The FIS4yes Project is aimed at helping students complete their education through sports programs. It helps promote physical activity and healthy lifestyles among young people.

The specific objectives of the project are: to share experiences in education through sport; Raise awareness of the potential of sport and its positive effects for individual development, well-being, empowerment and active participation in social life.

The project works with more than 1000 boys, girls and young students from 6 to 17 years old, in particular, disadvantaged groups and at risk of school exclusion.

The project focuses on exchanging good practices, ideas and models in the promotion of education through sports programs. The football tournaments will be organized within the framework of the European Week of Sport 2020.

RESEARCH AND PUBLICATIONS

HANDBOOK "FOOTBALL IN THE COMMUNITY"

Red Deporte, with the support of the UEFA Foundation for Children, has produced an excellent HANDBOOK FOR THE CREATION OF A SPORTS CLUB COMMUNITY with which to work successfully in the creation and development of sports clubs in socioeconomically disadvantaged environments. The manual offers a route and the necessary elements to activate football initiatives for social purposes under the umbrella of a sports club. We are fully convinced of the excellent quality and originality of this handbook and, of course, its usefulness. has been taken to carried out for more than two years by a team of 11 professional soccer enthusiasts for social change.

HANDBOOK "SCORING FOR THE FUTURE"

Red Deporte, with the support of the European Commission, and together with six other partners from the field of sport for social change, has prepared this manual whose function is to take advantage of football dynamics in order to promote employability among young people in situations of greater vulnerability .

HANDBOOK "SPORT FOR INTERCULTURAL DIALOGUE"

Red Deporte, with the support of the European Commission, and together with seven other European social organisations, has developed a set of tools to promote interculturality through sport, among which is the "Sport ID" handbook, produced in various languages to work on this challenge from a local perspective and at a European level.

HANDBOOK "FOOTBALL FOR HEALTH"

Red Deporte, with the support of FIFA Football for Hope, has produced a manual to promote health and educate on the prevention of HIV-AIDS, malaria and basic health and hygiene, using football as a tool and context for discussion, reflection and transmission of knowledge. The manual has been published in three languages.

SCIENTIFIC ARTICLES

Red Deporte has published the scientific article Football as a primary prevention factor against HIV-AIDS, Malaria, and as an element of Basic Health and Hygiene in schoolchildren from an educational center in Cameroon in the prestigious International Journal of Sports Sciences - RYCID of high impact among the scientific and educational community.

AWARDS AND HONOURS

FIFA FOUNDATION AWARDS THE WORK OF RED DEPORTE IN AFRICA

The FIFA Foundation chose Red Deporte's intervention in community health through sport in Cameroon as the best program carried out in Africa. On the occasion of this election, Samuel Eto'o's visit to our program was organized in March 2019.

Eto'o had the opportunity to share a simply unforgettable day with the young people and supervisors of our program, with Samuel Eto'o being his luxury coach for a day, directing a session with the Cameroonian boys and girls.

The session was basically playful and educational, in which Samuel, helped by Red Deporte monitors, gave what was surely the most unforgettable training session of the lives of these boys and girls who came from Bertoua to Yaoundé.

The day was accompanied by various protocol activities and a meal attended by the national sports authorities, FIFA representatives and many friends of Red Deporte. Samuel told us how he grew up in the world of football and how much this sport has taught him, especially from the hand of "The Captain", his friend and mentor, player of the award-winning Cameroonian football team of the 80s. Present we shared a meal at Don Bosco Mimbomán, receiving center of the activity.

Our sincere thanks to Samuel Eto'o and FIFA Legends for this recognition of Red Deporte's work in Cameroon.

Samuel Eto'o

"Football has given me everything and I think that with very little, your coach or monitor could also make many children happy thanks to football. I want to congratulate Red Deporte for its work, for bringing hope to children, who are always the most vulnerable."

RED DEPORTE TAKES PART IN THE DESIGN OF THE BALL FOR THE EUROPEAN SUPER CUP FINAL

On September 24, a very special soccer ball was rolled at the Puskás Aréna stadium in Budapest. And what makes it so special? Adidas, in collaboration with the UEFA Foundation for Children, launched the project to create a unique ball. In it, there are the drawings of boys and girls of how they understand football, how it makes them happier and how this sport can be a path to a better world and a way to fulfill their dreams.

Red Deporte, after carrying out numerous educational activities in schools in Madrid, sent the UEFA Foundation for Children more than 200 drawings by boys and girls from Spain. Finally, those chosen to represent us were Patricia, Yolanda and Daniela, from the Salesianos El Pilar school in Madrid.

It all started in 2019 and it was in the European Super Cup final between Sevilla CF and Bayern Munich that it became a reality. UEFA Foundation for Children has delivered a copy of this ball to each of the participants. In the photo our friends, winners of the contest, posing with the ball.

UEFA FOUNDATION FOR CHILDREN AWARDS

Red Deporte's employability and intercultural program has been awarded the "UEFA Foundation for Children Awards" in 2019, in collaboration with the Real Federación Española de Fútbol. In relation to this award, we have set ourselves on the agenda to develop a whole compendium of materials to work on the resilience of young people, especially those considered NEET (they do not study or work) to promote their incorporation into the labor market. Step by Step.

The activities of this project are planned to be worked with young people, especially vulnerable, and as part of the strategy, unite all young people regardless of their origin or economic condition. Because the problem of youth unemployment that is suffered in large areas of Europe knows no religion, ethnicity, gender or any kind of distinction. It affects everyone equally, therefore building resilience and trust is equally necessary for everyone. On this path we will be helped by coaches, lecturers, sports institutions and the young people themselves.

CAMPAIGNS

FOOTBALL EVERYWHERE: VISIBLE RESULTS IN SPAIN, ZAMBIA AND CAMEROON

Thanks to the collaboration of the chain of the prestigious chain of stores and one of the largest online sales platforms for sports equipment, Fútbol Emotion, and the company DHL, our programs in Cameroon, Zambia and Spain have received abundant sports equipment, in the form of boots, garments, balls, shin guards and of course, goalkeeper gloves, watchword in the origins of Fútbol Emotion.

It has been received with great enthusiasm after crossing thousands of kilometers to reach its destination, in the case of Cameroon and Zambia. Our gratitude and commitment to unwavering collaboration with Fútbol Emotion, which will continue throughout 2021.

Héctor Mainar, manager of Fútbol Emotion.

"We believe that with our visibility on the Internet and our stores we can involve many football practitioners in Spain to do their bit to ensure that everyone can enjoy the sport that we love so much regardless of their financial resources. And that is why we found Red Deporte, whose scope, variety of projects and ease of collaboration fit 100% with what we needed to start this project that we hope will last for many years"

EQUAL PLAYING FIELD

Red Deporte has had the privilege of participating in the "Equal Playing Field" Football Festival held in 2019, parallel to the 2019 FIFA Women's World Cup in Lyon, France, from June 27 to July 1. The Football Festival hosted five days of workshops, dialogues, training and coaching sessions; open football matches; a film festival; a FIFA-accredited referee training program for female referees; and a volunteer program that integrated more than 40 volunteers into the festival operations team, providing first-hand experience in running a globally based festival.

Deja tu huella

LEAVE YOUR MARK

Red Deporte is going to celebrate its 20th anniversary in the best possible way, multiplying the wonderful effects that sport is having on the child population of Zambia.

The "Leave your Mark" campaign aims to obtain financing for the construction of a Sports Center in Zambia, designed for the child population (girls, boys and adolescents) that can be the point of reference for all Red Deporte projects in this country. To this end, it addresses Spanish sport, clubs, sports associations and schools and educational centers that know the tremendous value of sport for the development of peoples.

Red Deporte began working 20 years ago in Zambia, using sport as a tool for social development, in actions such as the construction of basic sports facilities, the training of coaches, trainers and monitors, and the organization of championships, leagues and regular training sessions. with a sport for development approach.

The place where the Sports Center will be located in a space of approximately one and a half hectares, located in City of Hope, Lusaka, Zambia. The construction project of the center consists of multi-sport spaces and spaces for management, health care and training.

Educational centers such as Colegio Peñascales, Donosti Cup, Corredor magazine, Editorial SM through the series "Futbolísimos" and its author Roberto Santiago have collaborated to lay the first and fundamental stones of this sports center. You can find all the information regarding this project at <http://tuhuella.redeporte.org>

VOLUNTEERING AND INTERNSHIPS

VOLUNTEER PROGRAMS

Volunteering is the human base that sustains the work of Red Deporte. We need volunteers from different fields: for our intervention programs, people linked to the sports field, health personnel or educators. To collaborate at the Red Deporte headquarters, you can also support administration tasks and awareness or communication programs, among others.

SANTIAGO PALACIOS
Internship student – European University

“My months at Red Deporte were unforgettable. Working with the Red Deporte team was a pleasant experience because from the first day they knew how to give me responsibilities and there was always a good atmosphere during work meetings. The icing on the cake was the participation in the Final of the Champions Madrid 2019 where we were able to work together with UEFA on The Equal Game project”.

DANIELE DE SERIO
Internship student –Erasmus+ Program

“Joining the Red Deporte team as an intern made it possible for my passion for sports to coincide with my studies. I am a firm believer in the educational and training value of sport and for this reason it was a real pleasure to be able to integrate myself with the objectives and values of the project. Without a doubt, an enriching experience since it allowed me to meet inspiring people and develop myself not only professionally but also on a human level. Thank you Red Deporte!”.

YAIZA CABRERA
Volunteer doctor in Zambia

“Thanks to Red Deporte I lived one of the great experiences that have marked my life. Living, living together and working with a rural community in Zambia has made me grow as a professional and as a person. It's literally the best thing I've ever done in my life.”

LETICIA FERNÁNDEZ
Volunteer doctor in Zambia

“Collaborating with Red Deporte in Zambia has undoubtedly been the most rewarding experience in terms of all the aspects in which physiotherapy can help and/or contribute to people in their dysfunctional processes.”

MARTA PÉREZ
CES Don Bosco

“I am a student of social education and I was lucky enough to be part of the Red Deporte team during my internship in 2020. Thanks to the university I discovered the NGO and it showed me an area unknown to me, such as working with young people in socio-sports projects. My experience was short due to the current situation of COVID-19, however, what I experienced and learned has been very positive for my development as a social educator. I learned to develop and carry out projects and activities through healthy and fun leisure. On the other hand, I have pleasant memories of the team formed in these practices. Above all, for the enthusiasm and the great initiative to create new projects for boys and girls who love sports. My time at Red Deporte has left a great memory and I take with me a very valuable learning about social action with young people”.

INTERNSHIP PROGRAMS

At Red Deporte we have welcomed numerous students who have been able to carry out their internship program with us, thus contributing to the fulfillment of our mission and at the same time promoting their training from the academic and professional fields. Contact us to carry out your internship at Red Deporte.

LORENA MIRANDA
Internship student, Friedrich
Alexander Erlangen University

"Thanks to my internships at Red Deporte I discovered my passion for projects that involve different people from different countries. The number of ideas and proposals that arise after the joint work and discussion of a group of people of different nationalities is incredible. During my internship I participated in the "Art and Education for Social Inclusion" training and in the "Sport Inclusive" project, from both activities I have nothing but pleasant experiences and beautiful friendships. So I recommend you to be part of Red Deporte either for your professional practices or as a volunteer".

ROCÍO
Internship Student – University of Comillas

"I had the opportunity to do the internship for the Master in International Development Cooperation at Red Deporte during the 2019-2020 academic year and, honestly, I couldn't have been luckier. As a sports lover, the ideal of leaving the world better than we found it and helping all kinds of people through it seems impressive to me, as well as quite a challenge. Thanks to Red Deporte I got to know a facet of the practice of sport that I had not had the pleasure of experiencing before, using it as a point of union, connection and, why not, education about life and our values. Despite the fact that the health situation was a parenthesis in the realization of some of the projects in which we work, the colleagues and the atmosphere generated with the different people with whom we had the pleasure of meeting was unbeatable. Thanks to all the people who decided to contribute our grain of sand to these projects and to those who work for them every day, we were able to create actions aimed at generating an improvement in the world and really interesting and useful people. From this beautiful experience I take away a great learning about cooperation, people, sports and even about myself that I will always treasure. And I hope that, although life takes each of us down different paths, we will meet again at one of its intersections. Doing the practices in Red Deporte was a real pleasure!"

ROBERTO PEDRERO
Volunteer

"I was lucky to start collaborating with Red Deporte at a good time, since it gave me the opportunity to participate in an Erasmus+ program abroad. There, I was able to live with different professionals from the social and health sector, as well as several users with functional diversity. It was a super enriching start, because I was able to understand how the world works from different perspectives and how day to day is understood from different shoes".

MARÍA PAULA GALÁN
Internship student – European University

"Red Deporte was a space to be aware that through sport you can get ahead, do good things and also have good habits. It is also a way to identify what type of sport is best for each environment or society. It was very good to work and meet people from other countries and how they perform in different areas of sport. On top of that it was a great experience to participate in the Champions League Festival. It was a great learning experience and also a practice with a lot of added value due to the fact that it was an NGO and that the purpose is not always to monetize".

KELIA VIDARTE
Volunteer

"My time at Red Deporte helped me appreciate the importance of sport as a social tool. I have learned a lot in the activities that I have carried out and, above all, I have had incredible fun. I have been lucky to share my volunteering with fantastic people who have taught me a lot. These are experiences that help you grow not only professionally, but also as a person."

LUIS ALMARZA
Volunteer

"For me, Red Deporte meant many things. In the first place, my first professional experience in the sector, something very important curricularly speaking, this from the most pragmatic point of view. From a human point of view, it allowed me to meet wonderful people in some very exciting activities, and an unrepeatable experience in a course in Rome, for the integration of people with special abilities. The pandemic has nipped in the bud the fact of being able to carry out more projects, but in my opinion, Red Deporte is one of those places where they never completely leave you, and you never completely leave them. Hopefully soon we can live another great experience together. Thanks for everything".

IGNACIO SANZ
Volunteer doctor in Cameroon

"Collaborating with Red Reporte in Cameroon has been an enriching experience, one is not the same

INTERNATIONAL VOLUNTEERING

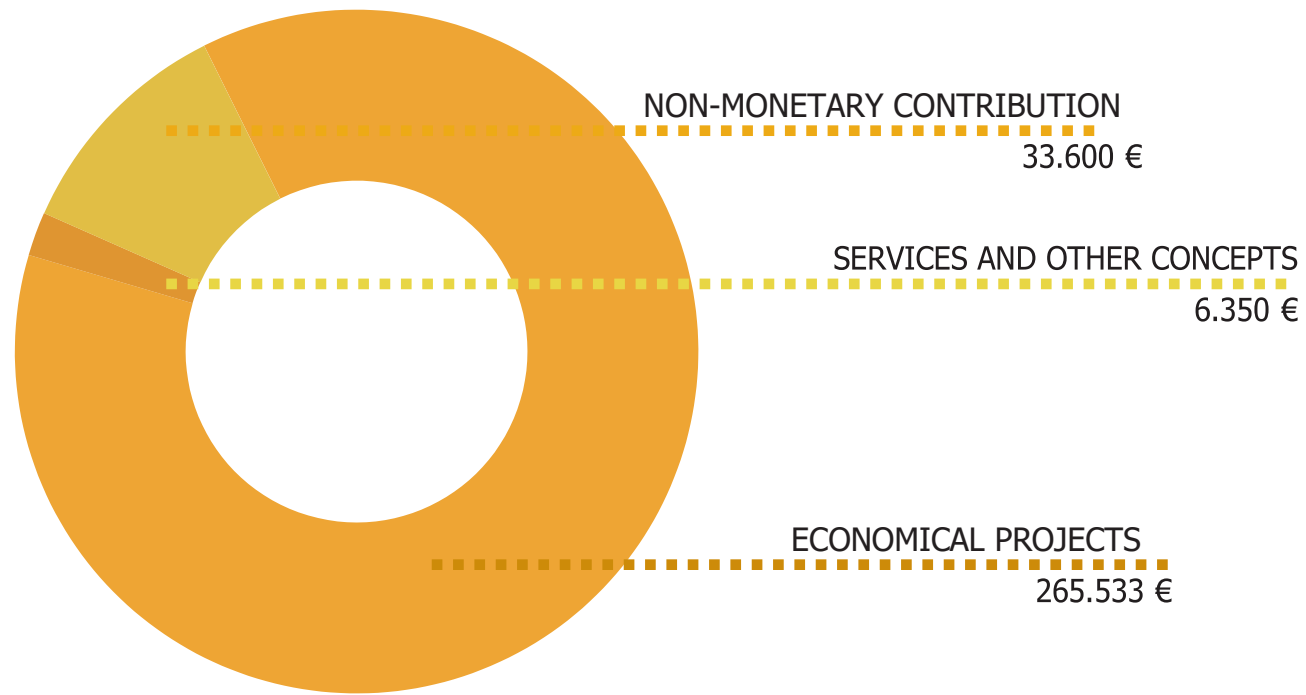

Red Deporte offers volunteer programs in different countries around the world, such as those in which we develop programs and other associated countries. We have people willing to give their best in the field of health, education or social integration.

SEBASTIÁN GÓMEZ
Volunteer

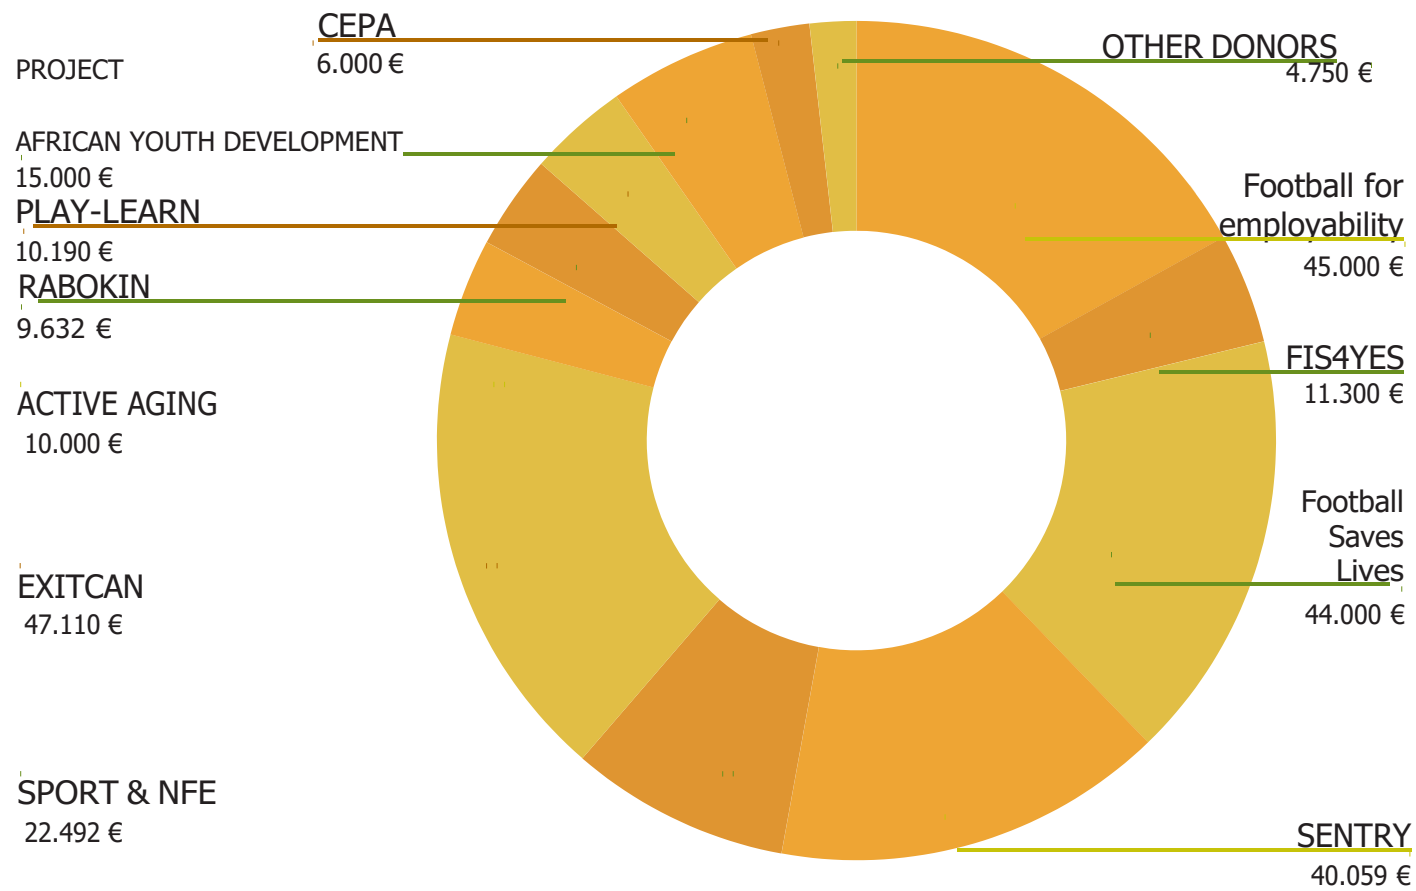

"My experience at Red Deporte was one of the best since I arrived in Spain in 2019. Getting to know their team and integrating and participating in the different activities and experiences that the foundation offers you has been a very nice experience. As a volunteer I have learned to work as a team with students and volunteers from different parts of the world, beginning to participate in events, talks, training, etc. Without a doubt, it has given me knowledge and has allowed me to work both on my personal development and on different skills such as problem-solving skills, speaking different languages, teamwork and learning about how the foundation works. Red Deporte is an environment where you will feel at home, whether as a volunteer or as a student intern, you will meet people who are quite enthusiastic and want to work, and working with Carlos in the different activities will give you a lot and will help you with the different implications. Definitely a great experience."

when one arrives and when one leaves, and when one leaves a part remains there, with those people who, having so little, know how to give so much."

MBAZE GERMAINE
Participant of the football for health program in Cameroon

"In class they teach you what we call camaraderie. We do practical exercises, we work as a team, we learn solidarity or the treatment between colleagues. But football is different, while in class we are comrades, in sport we are not just friends; we are brothers, because football is a very great feeling."

HERVÉ
Supervisor Red Deporte in Cameroon

"Children always prefer sports activities to classes in class. As you have noticed, everyone wanted to leave class to participate in sports activities"

HAKIM KABEMBA
Coach of Red Deporte in Zambia

"Drug use, crime and other harmful activities have been the path that many young people have taken to earn a living. Education is a luxury that not everyone can afford. Community clubs provide a space of trust, where young people can be trained to coach other children and help build their future through education."
